

Fairbourne Beach

Fairbourne has a long, wide gently sloping beach backed by a stony sea wall and further north by dunes. It is safe except for the more northerly areas near the estuary where the currents are strong and swimming is dangerous. It is great for kids and picnics in fine weather.

Fairbourne beach was MCS recommended in 2008, 2009 and also in 2010 (time of writing).

Turn off the A493 into Fairbourne. There are a number of places to park. 1 is on the sea wall with access to the wide beach. 2 is just next to the sea wall and has access to a shop. 3 is at the Point and gives access to the Barmouth Ferry with a short walk to the Point station of the Fairbourne Railway. You can also get into the dune area from park 3.

The images on page 2 show some views of the beach and dunes areas.

The beach looking towards Barmouth.

The beach looking southwards.

Looking inland from the dunes.

The northern beach backed by the dunes.

Looking across to Barmouth from the dunes.